

STUDENT FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Students have the right to express opinions, to take stands and to support causes, publicly or privately, except where the practice materially and substantially interferes with school discipline and the educational process. There should be no interference in the schools with the exercise of these rights.

APPROVED: August 21, 1995